

Diane Cashion

Diane Cashion is an experienced photographer and teacher. Her body of work spans several decades. Since moving to North Carolina, she has exhibited her work in several area galleries, including the Frank Gallery and Through This Lens. She has entered and received award recognition in photographic competitions and was a Second Place Scenery winner of The Annual News and Observer Travel Photo Contest. Diane was awarded “Best in Show” in the 2018 JC Raulston Arboretum Juried Print Photography Competition. Diane served on the panel of judges for the 2018 Chapel Hill Garden Tour Photo Contest and is a long-time member of the Chapel Hill Camera Club. She founded and ran the Briar Chapel Photography Club, organizing a variety of photographic activities there. While she most often shoots with her Sony digital SLR, she has also developed expertise in iPhone photography and post-processing using Lightroom. Diane teaches photography skills in small group settings.

Her work has been described as “lifestyle photography” and she enjoys sharing her images online at DianeCashionPhotography.com and in books which she designs and publishes.
